

Keep Your Lungs Strong

This advice is doubly important with knowledge that every three minutes one in the United States succumbs to consumption and many refuse to know they are afflicted until it is too late. It is after colds or sickness, from overwork, confining duties or when general weakness exists that tubercular germs rise because the resistive powers of the body are weakened.

Only with fresh air, sunshine and abundant rich blood can one hope to rest their progress, and the concentrated fats in Scott's Emulsion furnish el for rich blood, and its rare nourishment helps strengthen the lungs while builds up the forces.

If you work indoors, tire easily, feel languid or run-down Scott's Emulsion is a most strengthening food-medicine and is free from alcohol or stupefying drugs. Avoid substitutes.

CHILDREN OF THIRTY COUNTRIES DO HONOR TO KAILANI'S MEMORY

Queen Liliuokalani Not Well Enough to Attend Exercises, and Sends Note of Regret

Sixteen hundred school children and many parents and relatives heard the exercises yesterday afternoon at the Kailani school in commemoration of the birth of Princess Kailani, heir apparent to the throne before the revolution. A pretty program of songs and recitations was given by some of the scholars.

Queen Liliuokalani hoped to be present, with Hon. C. P. Lauka, but she was not well enough to attend. She sent a note, expressing her regret and sending "best wishes and aloha" to the teachers and pupils of the school.

C. H. Dickey spoke for a few moments, praising Princess Kailani, with whom he was acquainted and who, he said, was a splendid girl. He remarked that it was a strange fact that children of possibly 30 distinct and mixed nationalities were paying tribute to the late princess in the school.

Throughout the exercises there was a note of sadness. Stevenson's poem to Kailani, written just before the "little princes" went abroad for her education, was read by Marjorie O'Sullivan, and Ella Wheeler Wilcox's "Kailani," of which an autograph copy is in the school here, was read by Mary A. Nohrnga. Both poems prettily compliment the princess and the dynasty that is gone. The singing of the dirge "Sleep, O Sleep" marked the close of the exercises.

Among the best numbers was the singing of Queen Liliuokalani's song to her niece "He Lei No Kailani" (The Lei of Kailani) and "Lei O Kailani," by 20 Hawaiian girls. At the conclusion of the last song, the picture of Princess Kailani in the assembly room was covered with leis.

A poem to Kailani by H. W. Kinney, superintendent of schools, was read by Miss Thelma Duncan and several scholars, each reading a part of the story, recited to the audience the facts of Princess Kailani's life. The girls who read were Helen Char, Jane Rose, Christina Arpe, Helen Cordes, Norma Alama and Janet Holt. Mrs. Nina J. D. Fraser, principal of the Kailani school, had charge of the program, and the songs were arranged by Miss Stewart.

WASHINGTON HAS NOT YET GIVEN LEAVE TO DR. COY TO REMAIN

No information has as yet been received from Washington, D. C., by Dr. George W. McCoy, director of the United States investigation station in Kailani, at the request of the board of health, the health authorities in the national capital will allow him to remain in Hawaii and continue the work which he began here in 1911.

Mr. McCoy yesterday received a cablegram from Washington ordering him to return to the capital to take charge of the hygienic laboratory in that city. Upon learning of these instructions, Dr. J. S. B. Pratt, president of the board of health, called a special meeting of the board yesterday afternoon, at which time it was voted that a cablegram be sent to Washington urging that Dr. McCoy be allowed to remain in the territory.

HAWAII FEATURE FILM DELAYED ON MAINLAND

For the next three days the Hawaii theater is forced to return to its former policy of short and snappy films, all being the latest mainland releases. This change is necessitated by the delay in a film shipment from the coast. However, the promised offerings are reported to be high-grade films of deep heart interest, with clean-cut comedy and a good Western feature.

Commencing Sunday night and for not more than three nights the "Inside of the White Slave Traffic" will return to the Hawaii theater, en route to the coast from a tour of the outside islands.

MEMO'S OF MEETING OF CITY SUPERVISORS

Sam Kellinot was last night officially placed in charge of road work, Engineer Whitehouse being kept at home by the illness of Mrs. Whitehouse.

Upon request of Supervisor Hollinger, the board voted to allow Capt. Rosenbaum the use of Kailani park for military camping grounds during the time that the maneuvers are in progress.

The road committee reported that it has issued instructions to the overseer of the Koolanpoko road, with the approval of the city engineer, to use his monthly appropriation of $1000 for permanent construction work on the Pali road.

Tuesday, October 19, is the date set for the next meeting of the board. On the following day, leave having been voted him, Supervisor Shingle will depart for the mainland. His leave of absence—without pay—extends until December 7.

In a letter read last night from Raymond C. Brown, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, the attention of the board was called to the breaks that exist in the main sewer of the city, with a request that such breaks be remedied so that sewage will be carried beyond the reef as was the case before the break.

W. O. Smith, treasurer of Kailani Children's hospital, appeared in person before the board last night to state his request for financial assistance for the institution. He said that he would like help now, and also later when the regular budget is made out. By motion of Mr. Shingle, the question was referred to the ways and means committee with instructions to report back, donating $250 for the remainder of this year.

Espinda settled out of court with Harl for the damages.
